3. Number of projects recommended for unilateral construction: 14
4. Number of projects not recommended for construction: 0

E. Project Listing: (See attachment) The Board considered all projects on the attached project list and is validating and recommending all projects for unilateral construction.

The Board addressed some non-MILCON issues. The Jenkins Armed Forces Reserve Center in Albuquerque is being closed because of BRAC. COL Archibeque briefed the Board that the New Mexico National Guard will not take over the facilities when it is vacated. The City of Albuquerque will take over the real property and already has plans for it. It will become a transportation hub for State police and county and city agencies. There will be a warehouse used for street sweepers, and there will be a maintenance facility for city vehicles. Mr. Geck stated that the Jenkins Center must be turned over to the City of Albuquerque by 15 Sep this year. He also stated that the furniture in the Jenkins Center is available for the National Guard if desired. Units would just need to sign for what they are taking.

Mr. Geck discussed the situation with the new Armed Forces Reserve Center on Kirtland AFB. He stated that the new facilities are too small for the Army Reserves units assigned to Albuquerque. There are having to procure containers for storage of equipment. He stated that there is 1/3 to 50% of the authorizations for assigned force structure. Mr. Geck also discussed that $500,000 is required to build a brick wall for a fence extension and that the brick wall is required by Kirtland AFB. Mr. Geck also discussed problems with the parking lot. LTC Stogner from the 63rd RSC Stated that his headquarters is aware of the issues and will work toward fixing the shortfalls. LTC Stogner says the 63d will start working on another MILCON Project this year. This year's JSRCFFB will not vote on this project this time around. LTC Stogner anticipates a possible out-of-cycle request. The Board will be convened to consider and vote on the project when needed or it will be considered for approval during the next board in 2012.

COL Archibeque asked a question about the Santa Fe Reserve Center. The Reserve Center in Santa Fe has an engineer detachment and a transportation detachment. AAMSA had some space in the maintenance shop. LTC Stogner stated that the Army Reserve is considering the possibility of stationing other units at the Santa Fe Reserve Center. He also said that if the New Mexico National Guard wanted to make it a Joint Facility, we could request through him to COL Johnson at DPW, 63d RSC. He also stated that a support agreement would need to be drafted.

LtCol Benton of the Air National Guard discussed SRM Projects which are required after the force structure changes. The 150th is changing from F16s to three new missions: Red Horse, Prime Beef and Targeting Intel. 210th Red Horse is a 128 man squadron and there will be a requirement to renovate 4 buildings to accommodate that mission. They will need a Heavy Equipment Storage Yard. They will also need a near and a far training area. The Board discussed the possibility to train New Mexico Army National Guard soldiers using the Red Horse training areas. The New Mexico Army National Guard has 88M truck drivers and engineers that need large training areas for heavy equipment. LtCol Benton discussed the need to renovate a fuel cell building into a heavy equipment maintenance facility. LtCol Benton discussed the possible to convert the aircraft ramp to heavy vehicle parking and for converting the maintenance shop into an intelligence facility. LtCol Benton stated that there is a requirement for a SCIF.

The Navy and Marine Reserves are working a 50 cal range for snipers at Kirtland AFB. They also would like a MK19 range at Kirtland.

The Meeting was adjourned at 1441.

No other component had MILCON projects for board consideration.
